

CHURCH SEATS AND CHURCH PEWS

New Styles Cheap and Endurable.

Comfort and Beauty Combined.

UNTIL the large number of people who are never seen in churches can be assured that every church in this vicinity will have a set of seats that will be clean, comfortable and inviting, they will not be seen inside a church. Many churches will supply this long-felt want if they could do so at prices and on terms within their reach, thus increasing their attendance, drawing on the unusually large number of people who do not attend the churches, and which would evidently result in every service being crowded. A barrier has been in the way in the form of high prices, shoddy goods and no terms. This barrier has been removed by the Church Supply Department of the National Baptist Publishing Board, which has presented the new style church seat (its own creation and its own make). These seats are constructed of the best grade of hardwood. They are built by the best skilled mechanics and have proven to be the most comfortable ever offered at the prices. The terms on which they can be purchased are so easy that any church, regardless of its financial condition, can secure a set of these by a small cash payment, have the seats installed and pay the remainder in monthly or quarterly payments to suit their own financial condition. How long, with such inviting inducements offered, will it be, before every church in and about Nashville will get a set of seats? References can be given to the Nashville churches by referring them to Rev. L. Kirkpatrick, pastor of the St. John Baptist Church, Pearl St.; Rev. J. L. Harding, pastor of the North Third Avenue Baptist Church, both of whom have seated with new style church seats; Rev. G. B. Taylor, pastor of the Second Baptist Church, corner Stevens and Deluge Sts.; Rev. Wm. Haynes, pastor of Sylvan Street Church, Shelby Avenue, who have installed the church pews.

SPORTING NEWS.

BY LEON.

SMILES.

Well, the Baptist and Methodist ball teams met Monday afternoon under most threatening clouds. It looked as if the rain was bent on washing away the park, but Old Sol argued the point. The game went on, yes, on and on to the tune of

I'm a Baptist born and a Baptist bred.

A Baptist till I die;

I played baseball with the Methodist boys.

And I ate all the Methodist "pi."

The Baptists kept to their standard, always ready to exert every muscle to down their foe, be he Methodist or Do-Right.

The teams started off even, but ended very much one way. After the first inning the Baptist boys made two or more runs each inning.

A Mr. Wright was firing for the "Pedoes," but it was just a short while before the park keeper declared that only two bases would be allowed on a ball knocked out of the inclosure. There was no help available until the eighth inning, by which time the Baptists had decided to treat all alike, so Mr. Mason, the successor of Mr. Wright, fared no better. Mr. Bowman, the hurler for the Baptists, minus the three rotten errors behind him, would have shut out the Pedoes. As the fumbles amused the select audience, the game went to a conclusion of 17 to 4, with the Baptists on top. So ended the annual athletic contest between the two largest Negro publishing houses on earth.

The Methodist admirers were there good and strong to cheer their boys on, on and down.

It was plainly noticed that there were only a few friends and none of the collaborators of the Baptists, but nevertheless they went on and on and up, though alone.

Mr. Walter Green, of the Columbia Cubs, umpired in the place of the whiffen umpire, Mr. Wm. Stewart. Mr. Green was a bit off on balls and strikes, but otherwise gave satisfaction.

The broad challenge made by the Baptists before the Methodist game has been accepted by the Standard Giants, who have agreed to cross bats on August 12, at Athletic Park, so the public will have a chance to see one more good game before the season closes.

"Leon," not feeling well, coached the game from the bench.

THE RING.

Veteran Goes in Ring With Bad Arm and Is No Match for Johnson in Their Philadelphia Battle.

"Johnson deliberately fouled me twenty seconds before he threw me to the floor and the referee should have given me the decision on that point. While I believe that I could have beaten Johnson had not this foul occurred, I am certain I would have lasted the limit.

"My broken arm would have prevented me from getting the better of the fight, but had I not been fouled and then dazed by the fall when Johnson threw me I would have weathered the storm through the six rounds. He wrestled me to the floor. I fell flat on my back and the blow hurt me."

This is the statement Fitz recently made concerning his bout with Johnson.

First Round.

Johnson put a light left to the wind, following it with two more to the same place, and then they clinched. Johnson hooked a left to the face and then a hard left to the body. Some more sparring followed. Fitz swung his left to the face. The Negro sent his left to the body and another one to the wind. Bob hooked a left to Jack's face. The Negro swung a left to the chest. Fitz then hooked a light left to the ear, and Johnson sent a straight left to the face. Johnson swung his left to the wind at the bell. Johnson's round.

Second Round.

Johnson swung a right to the face and threw Fitz to the floor, for which he was warned by the referee. They then exchanged lefts to the body and Johnson jolted a right to the chin and Fitz went down. He tried to get up at the count of nine but fell over sideways and the referee stopped the fight. The blow that put Fitz down did not appear to be hard enough to have done very much damage, but the spectators took the affair quietly and made no fuss. It was evident to everybody that Fitz was too aged to have had a chance, and most of those present were glad that he was knocked out cold.

Corbett at Ringside.

Young Corbett, who was one of Fitz' seconds, said: "The old man tried once too often. Of course his injured hand prevented him from doing his best, but had it not been disabled he would not have lasted over five rounds. His work in the gym greatly deceived the people. When I saw him work I believed he would stop the colored lad, but his age told on him, his strength gave way and he fell early. Johnson did not land any terrific wallops on the old man."—Freeman.

TOMMY BURNS DOES NOT MIND THE COLOR.

Tommy Burns has publicly declared that he is not disposed to raise the color line any longer and that if any Negro pugilist thinks he has a claim on the heavyweight championship he can come forward with a challenge in the regular way. "Jack" Johnson intimated after the Burns-Souires fight that he would like to take Tommy's measure, and no one doubts that he will be heard from without delay. It would, consequently, appear that the next big fight will take place between Burns and Johnson, but the probabilities are that several months will elapse before the men can get together.

Johnson is the only big man who is entitled to contest with Burns for the heavy supremacy. All the others have been given an opportunity to show the public what they are worth. But as soon as Johnson's name has been mentioned the color barrier was raised.

A fight between Burns and Johnson would be watched with great interest by sports all over the country, but, of course, Burns will have to meet others, and he will be a busy pug for the next year or two. Burns, it is understood, has a very poor opinion of Johnson's real fighting ability and he fully expects to make short work of him if he ever gets him into a ring.—Clipping.

Jimmy Britt, the winner of the Britt-Nelson Bout of July 31, is out with a statement that he feels he can whip anybody at 133. He should remember that is Joe Gans' number, and Gans will surely call his hand.

A FREE RIDE.

A man who evidently hailed from rural parts walked into the Ellsworth Building the other day and asked on what floor a certain firm was located. "They are not in this building," said the elevator man, "but get in the car anyhow, and I'll give you a ride."

The countryman got in and the elevator shot swiftly upward, to his immense delight.

When the car was again on the ground floor the farmer got out and reaching in his pocket said, "That was a fine ride. How much is it?"—Chicago Record-Herald.

UTOPIA GUN CLUB.

Few people in Nashville know of the organization which bears the name of the Utopia Gun Club. Every Saturday afternoon this club is in practice at Greenwood Park. Last week the shooting was at clay pigeons. Each member was given twenty-five shells and made his score on the birds killed, which was as follows:

John H. Pressley	22
Dr. R. F. Boyd	18
O. C. Pressley	17
F. C. Bowling	16
James Orr	15
Louis North	15

The second round was not entered, the club having begun its shooting too late in the day. Next Saturday all the members will be present and some good shooting is expected.

The presence of Mrs. F. C. Bowling, Mrs. Pearl Crutcher, Miss Wells, Miss Moseley and Misses Harris added much to the pleasure of the occasion. The members of the club hereby extend an invitation to their friends to witness the shooting on Saturday. The club will contest with Company G for a prize on August 13, during the Odd Fellows' Conclave.
